L. Frank Retires from Business

Mr. L. Frank, one of our oldest merchants, has retired from the firm of Frank & Co., and while the firm will continue under the firm name of Frank & Co., the members of the new firm will be B. A. Frank, Lee Price and R. L. Frank. This dissolution was made on account of the ill health of Mr. Frank, and the desire to put another of his sons into business for himself, Mr. Robert Lee Frank taking his father's place in the old firm.

Mr. L. Frank has earned a well deserved rest from the cares of business. He was born in Germany in 1832 and came to this country in 1849, via New Orleans. He came to Paris in 1853, and first started in business in 1861 under the firm name of Schiffman & Frank, afterward it was Newhoff & Frank; then L. Frank, and in 1892 Frank & Co., which remains the same today. For over fifty years Mr. Frank has been actively engaged in business in Paris, and by his strict business integrity and fair dealing is honored by every man, woman and child in this community. He has been successful financially, all due to his own energy, for he is eminently a self made man. In retiring from the cares and worry of business, leaves two sons to perpetuate the old firm name, Messrs. B. A. and Robt. L. Frank, both of whom are popular and experience young merchants, having all their lives been under the training of their father, a prince of dry goods merchants.

The well deserved rest that Mr. Frank can now take, relieving himself of all business duties, we with a host of friends of this old and honored citizen only hope that his useful life will be prolonged for many years for him to fully enjoy the fruits of his labors.

Claysville Shooting.

Bob Norris became involved in a difficulty with Charley Mitchell, alias "Wees," in the negro suburb of Claysville, Sunday about noon, which resulted in Norris shooting Mitchell, the ball taking effect in latter's side, making a dangerous wound. Policeman Charlie Thomas arrested Norris and placed him in jail. The trial was set for Friday. Norris was taken before Squire L. J. Fretwell who put him under $1,000 bond for his appearance.

Fined For Not Paying Dog Tax.

Caleb Asbury, colored, who resides near town on the Clintonville pike, was fined $12.75 yesterday afternoon by Squire L. J. Fretwell. The charge against Asbury was "harboring a dog," that is he had not paid his dog tax, as the law requires.

We understand there is a special officer now on duty to look after the collection of the back taxes on dogs. You folks who have not paid your taxes on your dog had better be setting for the law is plain and is going to be enforced.

MATRIMONIAL.

—County Clerk Pearce Paton issued marriage license yesterday to Mr. Cleveland Ginn and Miss Ida Lee Frederick.

BIRTHS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hancock are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a handsome son. The young man arrived yesterday morning and is named Arthur Hancock, Jr.

—Born, Saturday morning, to the wife of Mr. Swiney Isgrigg, nee Daisy Turner, a ten pound daughter.

Was There When He Started.

Cook's mistake reminds one of the mistake made by Mrs. Jane Marshall's old Sam, many years ago.

Sam was very fond of grog and never failed to get it whenever it was to be had.

It was in the days of ox teams, and Sam had been sent to the river to bring home the trunk of a visitor at Mrs. Marshall's.

Sam got the trunk and didn't neglect his whisky, but started home with both.

Riding an ox, he thought everything had gone off all right, but the hind wheel and bed had become uncoupled, leaving them and the trunk in the road, while Sam, unmindful, continued his way.

He finally brought up at home, where upon being asked about the trunk, he looked around in a dazed fashion and, taking in the situation, exclaimed: "It was dark when I started, sah."

So, when Cook started on his return home, he might have thought he had found the Pole.

Democrats Will Sweep Country.

The Democratic party will sweep the country in the next Presidential election, according to Benton McMillin, former Governor of Tennessee. "The Democratic party's prospects brighten every day," he said, discussing the political situation. "This is the undoubted and inevitable result of Republican misrule, a $2,000,000 Congress and the worst of all, the tariffs. No wonder we have recurring panic."

The great wonder is that we ever get over them. No wonder that a revolution has occurred out West. No wonder that the insurgents of the Republican party insurge. The earthquake has just begun. "The Republicans are wholly to blame for the high cost of living which is causing so much complaint and consternation. If the Democratic party will stand by its ancient principles it cannot fail."

Trusts Responsible for "Night Riders."

Replying from the floor of the United States Senate to a report published recently on "Night Riding in Kentucky, its Causes and Results," Senator Bradley uttered vigorous protest against what he declared was the injustice and falsity of the story.

The inspiration of the article, he declared, is easily discovered. "But a short time ago the so-called independent tobacco buyers met in Washington, their purpose being to relieve themselves of legislation, passed at the last session of Congress, and the whole object of the attack is to prejudice the minds of Congress, of the President and the Department of Justice against the tobacco societies of Kentucky in order that the so-called independents and their allies may cause, whether justly or not, proceedings to be inaugurated by the Government against these societies under the Sherman antitrust law."

After giving some history of the event leading up to the passage by the Kentucky Legislature of the statute allowing the farmers to pool their crops, Senator Bradley asserted that the "trusts and not the night riders are responsible for all the crimes committed within the borders of the State in connection with the tobacco trouble."

Seeks to Have Rehearing.

Attorney Edward Jouett, of Winchester, Friday filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals a petition for rehearing in the case of the Burley Tobacco Society against J. E. Gaitskill and others, the noted receivership case.

Tom Taggart Shot.

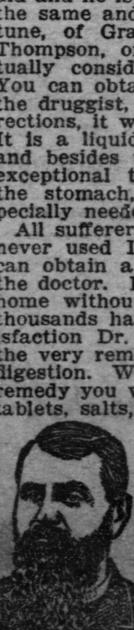

Tom Taggart, Democratic National Committeeman, of Indiana, was accidentally shot by his secretary, while hunting in Jefferson county, Mississippi, Friday. He may lose the sight of one eye. Mr. Taggart was taken to Louisville on a special train.

Big Lawyer's Fee.

The fee which Samuel Untermyer, of the law firm of Guggenheim, Untermyer & Marshall, of New York, will receive for his work in connection with the proposed merger of the Boston Consolidated Copper Company with the Utah Copper Company, will amount to $760,000, according to Charles W. Graham and Col. E. A. Wall, the Utah stockholders, who got a Federal injunction prohibiting the stockholders' ratification of the merger.

Gone to Its Eternal Sleep.

The prevailing opinion, following the adjournment of the Legislature, Thursday, among the unit and anti-unit men is that the temperance measure No. 1 of this session has gone to its eternal sleep. The unit bill introduced in the House may eventually go to the Senate and be sent to a committee other than Religion and Morals or Kentucky Statutes by Lieutenant Governor Cox.

Won His Opponent.

In 1747 Mr. John Brown was invited to become the pastor of a church at Hingham. There was but one opponent to his settlement, a man whom Mr. Brown won over by a stroke of good humor. He asked for the grounds of his opposition. "I like your person and your manner," was the reply, "but your preaching, sir, I disapprove." "Then," said Mr. Brown, "we are agreed. I do not like my preaching very well myself, but how great a folly it is for you and me to set up our opinion against that of the whole parish." The force of this reasoning appealed to the man, and he at once withdrew his objections.—London Saturday Review.

A Nautical Explanation.

The officers were on the quarter deck looking at a comet and noticed an eager discussion among the crew forward. The captain called one of the men aft and asked him what was the subject of discussion.

"We were trying to make out what that thing was," replied the man, pointing to the comet.

"And what do you imagine it is?"

"Dunno, your honor, but Bill Jones here, as knows most things, says as how it's a star that's sprung a leak."—London Telegraph.

Asking Too Much.

The mother of little six-year-old Mary had told her a number of times not to hitch her sled to passing sleighs, feeling that it was a dangerous practice. It was such a fascinating sport, however, that Mary could not resist it, and one day her mother saw her go skimming past the house behind a farmer's bob.

When she came in from play she was taken to task, her mother saying severely: "Mary, haven't I told you that you must not hitch on to bobs? Besides, it is against the law."

Mary tossed her head. "Oh," she said, "don't talk to me about the law. It's all I can do to keep the Ten Commandments!"—Woman's Home Companion.

A Star That Winks.

There is in the constellation Pegasus a little variable star that may reasonably be said to wink. Two or three times in the course of a single night this curious star can be seen to fade and then to brighten like a signal light. For about two and three-quarter hours it becomes fainter and fainter. Then comes a change, and at the end of two and three-quarter hours more it is as bright as at the beginning. Unfortunately it can be seen only with a telescope. Yet it ranks as a sun.—Harper's Weekly.

Alaric the Goth.

Alaric, the first of the barbarian kings who entered and sacked the Eternal City and the first enemy who had appeared before its walls since the time of Hannibal, is said to have received as the price of his departure from the city (during the first siege, in A. D. 408) 5,000 pounds weight of gold, 3,000 pounds weight of silver, 3,000 silk robes, 3,000 pieces of scarlet cloth and 4,000 pounds of pepper. In order to furnish a portion of the ransom it became necessary to melt down some of the statues of the ancient gods.

Made It Clear.

Jim had never learned to read by the ordinary methods the face of the old eight day clock. It pleased his long time employer, however, to ask him the hour and hear his answers.

"Jim, what time does the old clock say?" he asked one evening when he had callers. "Step in the hall and see."

Jim was gone several minutes, but returned with a beaming face.

"Ah—Ah waited jes' a minute to see which'd get ahead, de shot's one or de long one," he said. "W'en I went out dey was bofe on de lef' han' windin' place, sah. But de long one, she clip it up good an' libly w'en she see me watchin' out, an' now she's 'bout a inch ahead, sah."—Youth's Companion.

Irving's Intensity.

The piercing eyes and intense expression of Henry Irving once had the effect of making a fellow actor altogether forget that he was on the stage at all. It occurred in Manchester during a performance of "Macbeth," and in the scene where Macbeth says to one of the murderers "There's blood upon thy face!" Irving put so much earnestness into his words that the murderer forgot his proper answer ("Tis Banquo's, then") and replied in a startled voice: "Is there? Great Scott!" He fancied, as he afterward said, that he'd broken a blood vessel.

Early Birds.

The green finch is the earliest riser. It pipes as early as half past 1 in the morning. The blackcap begins at half past 2. It is nearly 4 o'clock before the blackbird appears. It is heard half an hour before the thrush, and the chirp of the robin begins about the same length of time before that of the wren. The house sparrow and the titmouse take the last stage of the list.

Wind and Storms.

The wind always blows from a region of fair weather toward a region where a storm is forming.

Saving One Storm.

When a certain Atchison man visits another town his wife complains, and so does his mother. Therefore, in order to avoid it, he says he is going out to get shaved and doesn't return until his visit is over. When he returns there is a storm, but under the old plan there were two storms, one before he went and another after his return.—Atchison Globe.

Census Application Forms.

Census Supervisor Louis L. Bristow, whose office is at Georgetown, Ky., has received from the Census Bureau a supply of blank applications for persons applying for positions as census enumerators. These will be forwarded to his list of applicants as soon as possible.

The applications, properly filled out, must be returned to the Supervisor not later than January 31, the Census Director having extended the time for filing from January 25, which was the date first set for closing the consideration of applications. The "test" will occur February 5, as previously announced.

The instructions printed on the application form state that a definite answer is required to each of the questions, which are:

"Are you a citizen of the United States? If naturalized, citizen, when and where were you naturalized?"

"Of what State or Territory are you a legal resident? How long have you been a legal resident thereof? Of what county and of what town or city and ward are you a resident? How long have you been a resident thereof?"

"What is your sex or color? What was your age at last birthday? Where were you born?"

"What is your education? (Give principal facts.)

"What is your present occupation?"

"What is your professional or business experience? (Give the principal facts, and if at present an officeholder, name the office you hold.)

"Have you ever been employed on census work, either national or state? If so, in what capacity and for how long a period? If an enumerator, for what territory or district? (Describe as accurately as possible.)

"Are you physically capable of a full discharge of the duties of a census enumerator? Have you any defect of either sight, hearing, speech, or limb? If so, state nature of defect."

"Do you speak English? Do you understand and speak in language other than English? If so, what language? (Specify languages spoken, as Bohemian, Chinese, Danish, French, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Japanese, Lithuanian, Magyar, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Yiddish, etc.)

"Are you a member of a political committee of any party? (Answer 'Yes' or 'No,' but do not indicate what party.)

"In view of the fact that you may be required to take a test before a postmaster, state what post-office would be most convenient to you for this purpose. (This test is of a practical character, consisting chiefly or wholly of the filling out of a sample schedule of population from information furnished regarding typical families, and, in the case of enumerators whose work will be in rural districts, the filling out of a sample schedule of agriculture.)

"Are the answers to each of the foregoing questions true to the best of your knowledge and belief? Are they in your own handwriting?"

Indorsements of each applicant must be secured from two representative citizens of the community in which the applicant resides. They must be at least 21 years of age and acquainted with the applicant not less than one year. Indorsements will not be accepted from any person who is in any way related to an applicant "is a thoroughly trustworthy and honest person, of good habits, and, in my opinion, is fully capable of discharging the duties of a census enumerator, if appointed."

Forced to Guess Answer.

It beats all what odd question reach some of the departments of government in Washington. Not long ago the treasury received a letter from a Pittsburgh man who had made a bet, asking: "How many cents are there in a bushel?" The answer was not easy to offer. If the man had asked about pounds he might have received a definite answer. As it was, he got in reply a guess from a clerk, that "roughly there are something like $320, or 32,000 pennies."

21 St LOUIS VIMONT.

Mr. Fred E. Baker, the third number of the Lyceum, delivered his lecture at the opera house Friday evening with telling effect. Notwithstanding the inclement weather the audience was as large as could be expected. Mr. Baker is not what could be properly styled an orator, but his utterances abound in rich thought and he catches his audience and holds them to the end. There is a peculiar fascination in the manner in which he outlined his subject that will cause one to anticipate future thoughts before the speaker has reached them. He was the recipient of showers of compliments and congratulations. The fourth number of the Lyceum will be Thursday evening, Feb. 3, when we will have with us the "Music Makers."

"The Music Makers" is an experienced quartette of thoroughly educated vocalists and entertainers. Their organization is offered in response to a call for quartette capable of giving a program of great variety and high quality. They present a versatile program, all features being artistically rendered. The ensemble work of the quartette is characterized by smoothness and a line of blending of voices.

The fact that the personnel of this company has not been changed for several seasons and that the members are hard working young artists, insures that their programs have been carefully prepared, rehearsed hundreds of times and given before the public many times before their present tour opens. The volume of their voices is such as to fill the largest auditoriums. They will present one of their best programs.

Morse Has a Chance.

Hope of the friends of Charles W. Morse for the ice king's release from prison brightened Saturday when Judge Hough, in the United States Court, entered an order squashing the indictment against F. Augustus Heinz, based practically on the same allegations which resulted in Morse's conviction.

Martin W. Littleton, Morse's lawyer, said Saturday that the decision may apply equally to the case of Morse and that if he could establish similar facts he would move that no valid indictment was found against his client.

Heinz was indicted October 21, 1909, for violation of the national banking law.

In squashing the indictment Judge Hough said:

"The common law is that a grand jury, while deliberating, shall listen to witnesses who give testimony and to no one else, except the authorized law officers of the Commonwealth. When this indictment was under consideration in the grand jury room, John P. Fernsler took part in the proceedings to the extent of asking some technical questions of other expert accountants, and throughout suggested the method of examining expert witness thought to be allied with the defendant." Mr. Fernsler is an expert accountant, not a lawyer, and was not retained by the prosecution as counsel.

Refused a Million.

A gift of one million dollars has been refused by the six leading Jewish charitable institutions of New York City. The conditions of the gift, which formed a part of the will of the late Lewis A. Heinsheimer, a partner in the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., stipulated that the beneficiaries form a federation for collection and distribution of funds. They refused to consolidate.

Sportsmen Behind Measure.

All the sportsmen of the State are said to be behind Senator Claude M. Thomas, who introduced a bill in the Senate creating a State Game and Fish Commission and providing for a rigid enforcement of the game laws. Should the act become a law, both residents and nonresidents of Kentucky will be forced to take out licenses to hunt in this State. The bill also makes provision for a State Game and Fish Warden, who will have a deputy in each county. The bill fixes heavy penalties for violations. The advocates of a more stringent law for the protection of game and fish in Kentucky, declare that such a statute rigidly enforced is absolutely necessary to prevent game from becoming extinct.

Navajo Rugs.

J. T. Hinton has display in the East window of his furniture store a number of handsome Navajo rugs. With a view of closing out this line Mr. Hinton has greatly reduced the prices. See the display.

Barnett is Signed.

Manager Bacon, of the Paris Base Ball team yesterday signed J. D. Barnett, former manager of the Paris team, for the coming season. In a letter from Mr. Barnett he says he is in perfect health and has gained fifteen pounds since leaving Paris. Mr. Barnett will in all probability cover first base the coming season, although he is willing to fill any place the management may decide.

A Blow to "Rectifiers."

A bill that if enacted into a law will deal a solar plexus blow to the manufacturers of rectified whisky in Kentucky, is the measure introduced in the House by Representative Z. A. Clore, of the Oldham-Trimble district. The proposed act raises the State tax on rectified liquors from one and one-fourth cents to ten cents a gallon.

The present tax on the rectifiers was imposed at the special session following the regular session of 1906, called by Gov. Beckham for the express purpose of taxing rectified spirits, after the rectifiers had succeeded in preventing any action affecting their interests at a regular session or being included in the revenue law, that was passed at the regular session.

It is certain that the rectifying interests will fight the proposed increase in tax to the bitter end. Judge Clore, the author of the measure, is an old time distiller, and says that while he expects a warm fight on his bill, that he is ready for the fray.

Sheriff Shipp Released.

Former Sheriff Shipp, of Chattanooga, Hamilton county, Tennessee, who was given a three months' sentence in the Federal Prison in the District of Columbia for contempt of court for alleged neglect of duty in allowing a negro to be lynched, has been ordered released, his time, including time allowance, having expired.

Miss Lloyd Interviewed.

Miss Alice Lloyd gives out an interesting statement in which she discussed the trip of the Burley Society Representatives to Washington and their interview with the Assistant Attorney General. She expressed the opinion that the proposed Federal action to dissolve the society will be abandoned. She said that the Assistant Attorney General seemed amazed at the flimsy character of the evidence when the facts were laid before him and he realized the confusion and inaccuracy of the information on which the proposed prosecution would have to rely.

A Request.

Owing to numerous complaints from patrons of the Grand it is earnestly requested that those attending the performance of "Mr. Hopkinson" tonight will remain seated until the curtain falls on the last act. The management has promised to see that this is done in the gallery, and earnestly requests his patrons in other parts of the house to grant this request.

Postoffice Robbed.

The Paris postoffice was entered by burglars on Friday morning, about 1:30 o'clock, and money and stamps valued at $100 taken. The building was entered from front door by means of a duplicate key. They then scaled the railing over the money order department, and left the building through a rear window, making hasty a retreat through A. J. Winters yard. The lock was blown from the safe but failed to dislodge the door. The thieves were evidently scared off by hearing Dr. D. B. Anderson, who rooms above, run across the floor and raised his front window after the explosion. U. S. Secret Service men have been here on the case, but no clue has yet been discovered.

Change in Bourbon Bank Officials

At a meeting of the directors of the Bourbon Bank on Friday, several changes were made in the officers of the bank, owing to the retirement of Col. E. F. Clay as President and Director. Cashier Buckner Woodford was elected President in the place of Col. Clay; Assistant Cashier S. E. Bedford was elected Cashier, and Buckner Woodford, Jr., Assistant Cashier.

Col. Clay, Mr. Woodford and Mr. Bedford have held their places since the organization of the bank in 1887. Mayor J. T. Hinton was re-elected Second Vice President, and Mr. W. H. McMillan was elected a director in place of Col. Clay. The Bourbon Bank is one of the best known and most substantial banking institutions in Central Kentucky, and stands in the front ranks in the banking world. The directors are Buckner Woodford, J. T. Hinton, L. Frank, J. W. Davis and W. H. McMillan.

Bourbon Wool Clip Pooled.

The wool clip from 1,000 head of sheep was pooled here Saturday at a meeting of the wool growers of Bourbon county, which was held in the court house at 2 o'clock, p. m.

The meeting was presided over by H. Sidney G. Clay, Bourbon's representative in the State Legislature, who had returned from Frankfort to urge the importance of co-operation upon the part of every farmer who is engaged in the production of sheep.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, which prevented farmers from coming to town, the attendance was small. Much interest in the success of the pool, which means an advance annually of from 3 to 5 cents per pound more for the wool clip of the county was shown and the work of securing the signature of every wool producer in the county will begin at once.

After the meeting adjourned the Board of Control held an executive session, the names of Letton Vimont of Millersburg, and Robert Meteer of Hutzler, being added. The Board now consists of S. G. Clay, J. H. Fisher, V. W. Ferguson, Letton Vimont, T. H. Clay, Jr., Robert Meteer and J. Hal Woodford.

Legal School Holidays.

The following was given to us by Miss Mabel Robbins, Superintendent of Bourbon County Schools, which is the law which governs legal school holidays:

Twenty days shall constitute a school month and for a term of six months, including one hundred and twenty days, one hundred and twelve days must actually be taught in the common schools for the year 1909-1910, if the legal holidays are observed the days upon which they occur, unless school has been suspended by the trustees and this shall not be done unless he has just cause for so doing.

Five days at Institute, labor day for all schools beginning before the sixth day of September, Thanksgiving day, the day upon which the association was held and Washington's birthday being the legal holidays. Christmas and New Year occurring on Saturday shall not be counted as holidays and on no occasion must the week dating from the twenty-fifth of December to the first of January be given as holiday, not has any trustee authority to give this time.

If any teacher failed to attend an association, the day which she failed to attend must be taught as well as one day at the end of the term, unless illness prevented her attending.

Kentucky Federal Appointments.

The programme is to settle the Federal office appointments for Kentucky this week and the anxious ones are flocking to Washington from all parts of the State. Judge Lewis Walker is said to be in a mood to withdraw from the contest; Judge George Du Relle will probably be allowed to serve out the balance of his term and Mr. Thacher will be taken good care of, either at home or some where else. Representative Langley has three nice post office appointments at his disposal that will probably be made this week.

We may be able to get a line on the appointment for the Paris postoffice, if the above is true.

"Mr. Hopkinson" a Good One.

The play of "Mr. Hopkinson," which comes to the Paris Grand tonight is an attraction of more than ordinary merit. It filled a three nights engagement at the Masonic Theatre in Louisville last week, and the notices it received in the Courier-Journal, the Louisville Times and the Louisville Post were very flattering. The recent plays which Manager R. S. Porter has been giving to the people of Paris are of the very best, and the patronage would undoubtedly be much better but for the extremely bad weather. It is to be hoped that the weather tonight will be so that a packed house will greet "Mr. Hopkinson" not alone for the benefit received in witnessing such a performance, but for the encouragement it will give the management to dislodge the door. The thieves were evidently scared off by hearing Dr. D. B. Anderson, who rooms above, run across the floor and raise his front window after the explosion. U. S. Secret Service men have been here on the case, but no clue has yet been discovered.

DEATHS.

Captain Francis Hall, one of the last of the four surviving veterans of the Mexican war in Bourbon county, died at his home on the Lexington pike, five miles from Paris, Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, of general debility. He was 82 years old Friday and was born in a few miles of where he lived all his life.

He was a son of John Hall, who emigrated to Kentucky from Virginia during the early history of the Commonwealth, having come to America from Yorkshire, England.

Captain Hall was the youngest of a family of eleven children and was a self-made man in every sense of the word. He leaves an estate of nearly 1,000 acres of land which he accumulated by thrift and industry. He has been a director in the Agricultural bank for many years and was president of that institution for a short time.

In 1847 he enlisted in the Mexican war as a member of Co. H., Captain Simons' Third Regiment of Kentucky Volunteer Infantry. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Louisa Wheat, who died, survived by one son, Mr. William Hall, who was with his father during his last moments.

Captain Hall is survived by his present wife, formerly Miss Sallie Thomas of near Sharpsburg. He was a member of the Christian church at Antioch and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends.

The funeral services were held yesterday morning at the grave in the Paris cemetery at 10 o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan. The pall bearers were the directors of the Agricultural Bank, viz: W. H. Renick, J. W. Davis, J. D. McClintock, N. Kriener, John Marston, W. H. Anderson, J. Will Bedford, J. T. Hinton.

The body of Mrs. Ellen Haley, formerly of Carlisle, who died in Lexington was interred in the Paris Catholic cemetery Saturday, the burial service being conducted by the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. Mrs. Haley was 82 years old, and is survived by an only daughter, Miss Kate Haley, of Carlisle. Those from a distance present were Mr. and Mrs. Cololpy, and Mrs. Sallie Burris, of Lexington. The pall bearers were J. H. Porter, P. D. Shea, Henry McGinley and John Cololpy.

PLEASURE TO BE PAID FOR

How Wise Mother Directed Little Daughter's Steps in Ways of Common Sense.

She was a very little maiden, and she thought that Willy Smith, whom she met at a party, was the very nice boy she had ever seen.

"Mummy," she told her mother the morning after the party, "I want to write every day to Willy Smith; I said I would."

"All right, dearie," was the cheerful reply.

A very inky letter went off that day to Willy Smith. But the next day, when the small damsel had finished writing her missive, she looked up at her mother.

"Must I pay two pennies every time I write to Willy Smith?" she asked, plaintively.

"Why, of course, darling," said the mother.

"But if I pay two pennies every day to write to Willy Smith, I won't have any pennies of my own."

"No, that is true."

"Mummy," in a pleading voice, "won't you give me two pennies for my letter?"

"No, dear. I don't care to write to Willy Smith. Why should I spend my pennies on him?"

"Then," with a sigh, "I think I won't write any more to Willy Smith. I'd rather have my pennies."

The modern parent seems to be adopting Herbert Spencer's advice—to leave the children to be taught by the penalties that life inflicts.

On the Installment Plan.

The Blue and White in Greek Flag. The Greek flag is an unpretentious piece of blazonry consisting of nine stripes of blue and white alternately, with a white cross on a blue ground in the left hand corner. The navy flag has a golden crown in the center of the cross.

Blue and white are the national colors of Bavaria and were adopted by the Greeks as a delicate compliment to the Prince of Bavaria, who accepted the invitation to ascend the throne of Greece when that country had succeeded in wresting her independence from the Ottoman empire.

WITH UNEXPECTED ENDING

Story Contains All the Requisite Details Yet Seems to Fail of Satisfaction.

The merciless heat made the passengers gasp as the limited plowed the way steadily across the western plains. Dreary, monotonous, was the vista of sand scrub which greeted the eyes of the wearied travelers. To add to their discomfort, above the muffled roar of the train arose the continuous wailing of a child. More than one man cursed softly and sought refuge in another car—all, as it happened, crowded. Finally a harsh-looking passenger spoke.

"Why don't you keep that brat quiet?" he snapped.

The mother, a forlorn-looking woman clad in rusty black, looked pathetically up at him. "I'm trying to," she faltered. "But, you see, the heat and the long journey—"

A new expression stole over the harsh-looking passenger's face. "Give it to me," he said in a tone of marvelous gentleness; and the poor mother placed the fretful baby in his arms.

Whereupon he threw the child out of the window.

Pet Mispronunciations.

"Have you ever noticed," asked the teacher in English, "that a great many well-educated people persistently pronounce at least one word incorrectly? I know a college man who for some mysterious reason always says 'timidity' for timidity, and he drags this oddity into almost every sentence he speaks. Mrs. Smith's pet word is 'prejudice,' while Mrs. Jones can't help saying 'guiliani.' Just listen to them, and you'll hear the same people repeating over and over such mistakes as 'predilection,' 'circumlocution,' 'cupio,' etc. Some one must have called their attention to it, I suppose, but they have grown attached to their way of pronouncing, and don't like to change."

Knows Hiram Hedges' Slayer.

H. B. Tally, who recently moved to Carlisle from Sharpsburg, has informed the representatives of the daily papers that he knows the name of the party who killed Hiram Hedges in March, 1908, during one of the night rider raids, and that he will testify before the next grand jury and make some startling revelations concerning the murder which has so long been a mystery. He has sent the names to Governor Wilson, he says.

Mr. Tally claims to be able to give and furnish witnesses sufficient to bring the guilty parties before the court. Mr. Tally declines to make public, at this time, the names of the parties who are implicated, but says that he will talk at the proper time. Tally was himself a victim of night riders, and he says he has also the names of the men who attacked him.

The murder of Hiram Hedges was one of the most brutal of the long list of crimes charged to the night riders of Central Kentucky as a result of the tobacco war. It occurred in Nicholas county in March two years ago, and nobody has ever been punished for the deed. About midnight a band of armed men called at the home of Hedges, who was a poor farmer, with a large family. He had not pooled his tobacco, and at that time the night riders were using fair means or foul means to force everybody into the pool. Hedges was called to the door and ordered to join the society. He agreed to do so, and just as he turned his head to go back into the house a shot was fired from the men in the road, and Hedges fell dead. The night riders then rode away, apparently satisfied with their night's work.

All efforts to secure any indictments at the hands of the grand jury have proved useless, but it is the belief now that with Mr. Tally's information, to be used in the case, something may be accomplished to bring to justice the men who were implicated in that fatal raid.

Two Kentuckians.

The Louisville Times says: "Two Kentuckians, both Republicans holding high office, have been given the opportunity to speak of and for Kentucky before audiences that represent the whole country—Bradley in the Senate of the United States, and Augustus F. Willson, before the American Bar Association. The one was content to give his best to Kentucky's defense against slander, the other was not content until he had done his best to give to slander the seal of his official authority."

Blue Grass Teams Strengthening.

W. E. Warren, of Washington, D. C., was selected to manage the Frankfort baseball team in the Bluegrass League during the 1910 season. This action was taken at a meeting of the stockholders of the club, will be called for an early date at which time new directors and officers will be chosen.

Warren goes to the Frankfort team highly recommended. He played in the Virginia League last season, and has had much successful experience developing and coaching college teams. He will play third base for the 1908 pennant winners.

The directors of the Richmond Club have elected Judge Jack J. Greenleaf president of the club in place of M. C. Kellogg. Every club in the league is making an effort to strengthen for this season.

Tony, the pitcher, will again be with the Winchester team, notwithstanding reports to the contrary. The old board of directors was elected.

Arthur Goebel Dead.

Arthur Goebel, brother of Gov. William Goebel, of Kentucky, who was assassinated, died at Phoenix, Ariz., Friday. He was the youngest member of a family of three brothers, and was born at Carbondale, Pa., in 1863. He was educated in law, but abandoned the profession on account of ill health. He was the sole heir to his dead brother's estate, and is said to have sent most of that fortune in prosecution of the alleged assassins of the murdered Governor. Mr. Goebel will be buried at Covington this week. The day of the funeral has not been announced.

Family Heirlooms at Mains Fairs.

The Maine town fairs are great places to see family heirlooms which have been handed down from generation to generation without suffering wear or change.

Among the curious old pieces shown at Green fair were a blue spread 150 years old, done by an ancestor of Mrs. Mehitable Mower; a towel woven by one of Burgoyne's soldiers while a captive in the revolution, a curious pitchpipe of wood used by Solomon Jackson while chorister in a Winthrop church in 1800, and old iron dishes shown by Mrs. Ann L. Fogg. Then there were Mrs. Fred B. Parker's "pumpkin hood," old fashioned straw bonnet, and home woven articles, and much pewter ware belonging to Aunt Polly Sawyer.

A bedspread, 125 years old, made by Mrs. Dorcas Dearborn was shown by Augusta Daggett, who also had a hand carved hatchel for combing flax.

Cats Watching Sparrows.

Every afternoon just before twilight a row of cats of all ages, stages, gauges, breeds, tribes and then a few other kinds thrown in to sort of even up the balance of things, can be seen in the yard next to St. Andrew's church, at Eighth and Shipley streets. All of them are squeezed as close to the wall of the church building as they can get, and there they lie in wait for sparrows which infest the creeping vines that grow all over the wall of the church on the south side.

Every moment or so some luckless sparrow alights too near the ground or chirps too loud, and some cat immediately makes a running jump up the vine, and before the bird can fly from under the leaves it is cat food. Sometimes as many as 25 can be seen in a row watching for their evening meal of birds.—Wilmington News.

Really Poor Penman.

There is a certain Philadelphia physician of considerable prominence who is renowned among his friends as the worst penman in the Quaker city. He used to write them letters and then feel hurt when they could not read them. When he wrote to persons who were not familiar with his scrawl they frequently would not know whom the letters were from. Some time ago he introduced a typewriter into his office, and this rendered the body of the letter intelligible, but did not clear up the difficulty over the signature. Now, however, says the Record, he has had made a rubber stamp bearing his name and address in printing. He signs his name in the usual scrawl, but alongside he impresses his stamp. It is a little humiliating, he says, but he no longer has any trouble about persons to whom he writes not knowing from whom the letters are.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

THEATRICAL.

"MR. HOPKINSON" TONIGHT.

"Mr. Hopkinson" a thorough unique character developed by the popular playwright, R. C. Carter has been brought back from England with Dallas Welford, the original, and London company including Frederick Powell, Patrick Wallace and the Misses Barbara Clement, Ina Roche, and Mary Millay all of whom on previous occasions have made their mark in society-comedy roles at the Avenue, Haymarket.

Dallas Welford, With the Original English Company, in "Mr. Hopkinson," Which is the Attraction at the Paris Grand To-night.

ket, St. James, Wyndham, and Imperial Theatres, in London.

On the previous visit "Mr. Hopkinson" success was so phenomenal that he remained over one year at the Hotel and Savoy Theatre, New York, and balance of time devoted to Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. "Mr. Hopkinson" returns to appear at all the leading theatres extending from Maine to California.

The story deals with a self-opinionated little "Cockney" bookkeeper who has inherited vast wealth from a relative; following the examples of predecessors he is anxious to enter society which he thinks his wealth demands. He secured an introduction to an impoverished titled family who agree, for a considerable sum, to chaperone him into the select circle.

"Mr. Hopkinson" or "Oppy" as he is familiarly called creates intense amusement at his odd mannerisms and slangy expressions which he innocently inculcates into the drawing rooms of society. "Mr. Hopkinson" will appear at the Paris Grand tonight.

Cantrill May Not Run.

Although Campbell Cantrill practically announced his candidacy for re-election to Congress in this, the Seventh and Old Ashland District, before he returned to Washington, the semi-announcement was made with the understanding that there were a number of little matters to be straightened up in the Congressional pathway before he would formally step his custer into the ring again, says a Frankfort special.

One of the chief of these is what is said to have been an agreement entered into by the friends of Cantrill and friends of State Senator Claude Thomas during the last State convention held in Lexington. At that time it looked like Cantrill was going to have a hard time obtaining the support of certain delegations that he would need to beat Pres Kimball, and it was almost a certainty that he could not win unless he had Bourbon county's vote. So then and there while future deals were being pulled off during the State convention, it is said to have been arranged that Cantrill should go to Congress one term with Bourbon's support and the following term Cantrill was not to run, but was to throw his support to Claude Thomas. Cantrill has had his term and the Thomas promise is a barrier which the astute Congressman is trying to get out of his way now, it is said. He has admitted, it is said, that this agreement stands in his way, but believes that Mr. Thomas was induced to forego pressing compliance with it just now, and permit Cantrill to go back for another term. The pathway was not made entirely clear when Cantrill was in Frankfort the other day, however, attending the Society of Equity meeting, and so he returned to Washington without formally announcing.

In the meantime, however, a new Richmond has appeared in the field for the Congressional honors, and is being quietly but persistently boomed by his friends.

Taft Favors Two Dreadnaughts.

At a conference with Chairman Foss of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, and Representative Roberts of Massachusetts, member of the committee, President Taft announced that he favored a provision for two new battleships of the Dreadnaught or "all big gun," type in forthcoming naval appropriation bill.

Settlement of Big Loan.

A settlement has finally been reached regarding the Hankow-Sze-Chuen railway loan of $30,000,000 it was reported in banking circles in New York, and the amount of bonds will be announced in the near future. England, France, Germany and the United States are each to share a one-quarter interest of $7,500,000 of the loan.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

—It is said that alfalfa and corn will probably be planted this season in large quantities as the conditions are favorable to the growing of both crops in Kentucky.

—The amount of hemp grown in Central Kentucky this year has been smaller than that of any previous years. The reason for the exceedingly small acreage planted this season is attributed to the presence of broom rape, which is destructive to the product and which it is almost impossible for the planter to rid his fields of.

—Prospects for an early spring are the best that have prevailed for many years, in the opinion of many Blue Grass farmers, who think that the worst of the winter weather is over. All small grains are coming up well, and wheat is beginning to come out of the ground. This grain has been fully protected all winter by a heavy blanket of snow, and the roots of the wheat are not in the least hurt by the cold.

—The first tobacco bed sown in the county was seeded Thursday when J. B. Ellis, residing on the farm of Newton Taylor, near Paris, sowed two tobacco beds, each 150 feet in length. Mr. Ellis has followed the practice of sowing his tobacco seed very early in January and says that he has always had an abundance of plants. Mr. Ellis says that the usual method of sowing tobacco seed in March and April on beds prepared by deep spading or plowing and burning of brush, fodder and other waste material is altogether unnecessary and more liable to failure than his method above described.

Examinations for Lawyers.

Another House bill that is being considered on favorably is that introduced by L. B. Herrington, representative from Madison county, and which places on a higher plane requirements necessary to a certificate to practice law in Kentucky. The bill provides that the Judges of the Court of Appeals shall frame the examination questions, and that the Governor shall appoint a commission of four to conduct examinations. Each applicant for a license to practice law in the State shall pay an entrance fee of $10, and this money, the bill provides, shall go into a fund from which the members of the commission shall be paid for their services in conducting examinations.

Officials of the Burley Tobacco Society, who returned from Washington Saturday, announced their belief that the Government will not prosecute the society under the Sherman anti trust law.

Refuse Knox's Proposition.

After exchanges between the two cabinets, both France and Great Britain have decided to conform their answers to Secretary Knox's Manchurian proposition, to those of Russia and Japan. The two latter countries have declined the proposal for the neutralization of the Manchurian railways.

Bradley Insurance Measure.

Among the bills which likely will be pushed in the House is one introduced by V. A. Bradley, Democrat, of Georgetown, requiring insurance companies operating in this and other States to deposit in Kentucky at least 75 per cent. of the sum set aside as a reserve to care for insurance on persons and property in Kentucky, or invest it in Kentucky securities. This means that at least 75 per cent. of the surplus set aside to meet payments on life insurance and property in Kentucky will be kept in Kentucky, instead of being invested in Eastern securities. The bill goes on to tell what constitutes Kentucky securities, and among other things names tobacco warehouses and whiskey warehouse receipts.

The bill, it is believed, will have the backing of the tobacco societies of the State, as it will largely obviate the need of going East when they want funds to tide them over for a certain period. The bill, it is said, will appeal to all who are in need of funds to float big undertakings.
